TAFT'S ATTACKS GROW IN VIGOR

President Issues Statement Bitterly Scoring Roosevelt.

LIKENS HIM TO LOUIS XIV.

In Scathing Denunciation Chief Executive Says Certainty of Colonel's Defeat for Republican Nomination Must Be a Source of Profound Congratulation to All Patriotic Citizens.

Cincinnati, May 20.—In a most bitter and scathing denunciation of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, President Taft declared that the "certainty of his defeat for the Republican nomination must be a source of profound congratulation to all patriotic citizens," declared that his predecessor in the White House would wreck the Republican party if he is not chosen by the Republican national convention and compared Mr. Roosevelt to Louis XIV. of France, who said "the state is I."

The attack was in the form of a statement. The statement said:

"On Thursday last I gave a statement to the press in which I said that with 520 Taft delegates then elected to the convention and with the immediate prospect of the election of enough to exceed the necessary 540 the success of the cause of constitutional government seemed assured. The delegates elected since that time have confirmed this conclusion."

"Mr. Roosevelt's speech at Cleveland shows him in such a light that the certainty of his defeat for the Republican nomination must be a source of profound congratulation to all patriotic citizens who can now see the utter wreck that he would have made of the party if nominated and the great danger to which the country would have been exposed had there been any chance of his election to a third term."

Infers Roosevelt Will Bolt.

"Mr. Roosevelt says that he is the Republican party and that if the Republican national committee in passing on the credentials of delegates for the preliminary roll in the convention hall hold to be unfounded his many flimsy contests he will decline to abide the judgment of those having authority. The inference from this is that he will bolt the convention because a duly constituted Republican national committee shall after a judicial investigation refuse to seat his contesting delegates. If his edict is to be heeded then the holding of any convention at all is perfunctory and superfluous."

"The arrogance of his statement that he is the Republican party and that failure to comply with his views and wishes puts those doing so in the attitude of bolters finds no parallel in history save in the famous words of Louis XIV., 'The state, it is I.'"

"It is on a par with his declaration that 'I typify and embody' the progressive sentiment of the age."

"With clearly traceable premeditation he projected contests, without the slightest reason therefor, in many cases, weeks after the regular conventions had been held, merely to make a basis for a campaign of bluff and bluster. Now he threatens that unless this campaign thus carried on is to be recognized as successful and unless honestly elected delegates shall be thrown out in sufficient numbers to give him a majority he will break from the party and try to ruin that which he cannot rule."

Severely Arraigns Colonel.

"I appeal to all Republicans to say whether a man who assumes this attitude does not forfeit his claim to any right to become a candidate in a Republican convention. Honored with the nomination to the presidency by that party, and with the most sacred obligations resting upon him to be loyal to its organization, to respect the rules governing its national convention and to recognize the authority of the committees duly appointed under its traditional policy, he flouts in advance the decision of all these and announces that unless he is to be nominated the interest of its members are to be sacrificed and only his selfish ambition is to be consulted. It cannot be that Republicans will countenance such a breach of party fealty, such treason to the party's properly constituted government and such defiance of the will of its majority."

"Mr. Roosevelt reiterates the unfounded statement that I held conference with him or in the cabinet concerning the treatment of the steel trust and the harvest trust. So clearly have I made the proof that these questions were completely disposed of while I was out of the country, and that therefore I could have had no part in any conference on the subject, that I do not think it is necessary to refer to the matter again. Mr. Roosevelt's statements in this regard are mere assertions without reference to record or contemporary memorandum. Mine were based on both."

Pioneer Shirtmaker Is Dead.

Troy, N. Y., May 20.—John C. Ball, the pioneer shirt manufacturer of this world, is dead at Watervliet at the age of sixty-six years. He was a prominent Mason. Mr. Hill sold the first custom made shirt manufactured in Troy.

TO FORCE ACTION ON TARIFF BILLS

Democrats Agree to Press Measures to Final Vote.

ADJOURNMENT PROGRAM FAILS

Efforts in Senate to Reach an Agreement Regarding Winding Up Business Before National Party Conventions Have So Far Been Without Success—House Virtually Clears Its Decks and Senate Is Congested.

Washington, May 20.—Congress gossip now centers largely upon adjournment.

The progressive Republican senators insist that after so many months of discussion at this session there should be important legislative achievements on the tariff and other matters. Regular Republican senators are bringing the tariff bills out of the finance committee, but are considering absenting themselves upon the tariff bill votes so that the president may have the advantage of vetoing straight Democratic measures.

The Democrats have agreed to press all the tariff bills, including the excise tax, to a vote, but have not progressed further toward adjournment. All efforts to map out a program for adjournment before the national party conventions have so far failed in the senate.

The house has virtually cleared its decks. The senate is congested so that such men as Vice President Sherman, Senators Penrose, Gallinger, Smoot, Heyburn and Warren, among the members of the senate steering committee, Senator Dillingham, head of the special Lorimer investigating committee, Senator Crane and others, have no expectation of congress getting away until after June.

"Adjournment," said Vice President Sherman when questioned on that subject, "About the first part of August."

It was said that if the senate did not adjourn before the conventions the house would refuse to recess over the convention period. Opposition to a recess also has developed among some senators.

The majority and minority reports of the senate committee, which investigated the election of Senator Lorimer, finally will be presented to the senate. The majority sustains Lorimer and the minority declares his election invalid. No date for a vote has been fixed.

Senator Clark of Wyoming, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, expects congress to act promptly on the plan to amend the Constitution to have presidents and vice presidents serve a single term of six years. This committee doubtless will report favorably on such a bill. Ratification by the state legislatures would be necessary and it would not affect present presidential candidates.

SUIT AGAINST COFFEE TRUST

Attorney General Files Complaint at New York.

New York, May 20.—Attorney General Wickersham moved against the so called coffee trust, or Brazilian valorization scheme. In a petition in equity filed in the United States court here the valorization plan is declared to be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding coffee from the market and to appoint a receiver to sell the 950,000 bags, valued at $10,000,000, now alleged to be stored in warehouses of the New York Dock company.

The government also applied for a temporary injunction restraining valorization committee from removing or disposing of coffee held in America pending the termination of the issue.

TAFT WILL HELP STRIKERS

To Find Work for American Railroad Men in Mexico.

Washington, May 20.—President Taft has directed the state department to endeavor to find work for the American locomotive engineers and conductors who are out of employment because of the strike on the National Railways of Mexico.

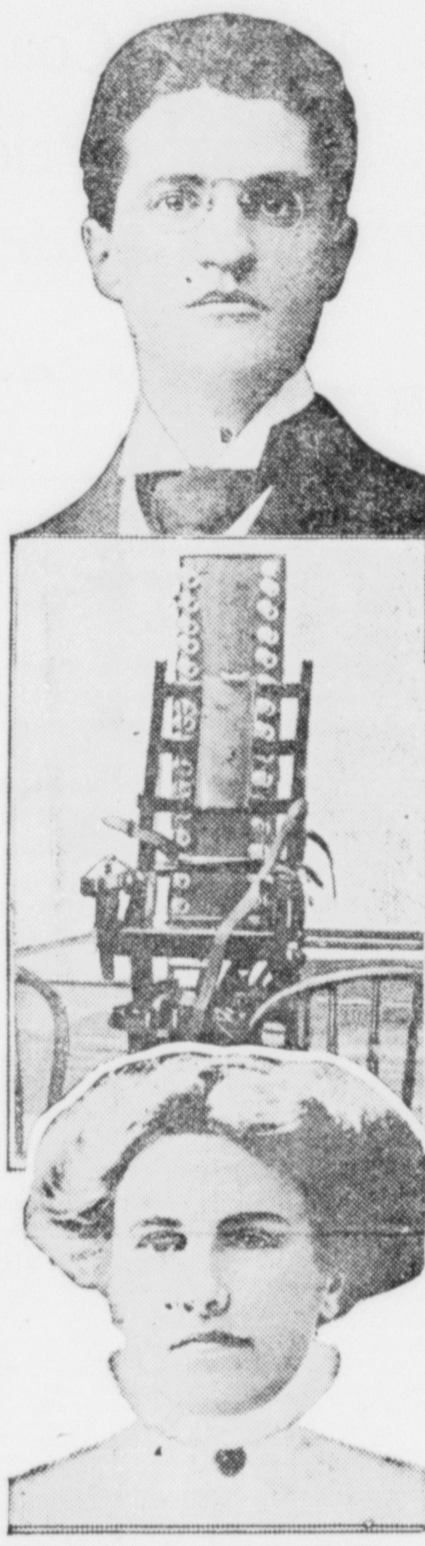

The department has sent letters to the heads of 150 railroads in the United States asking work for eighty engineers and eighty-three conductors now idle in the border towns of Texas. C. E. Webb, representing the engineers at San Antonio, and D. F. Anderson, representing the conductors at Laredo, are in touch with the department in the negotiations. American consuls in Mexico are trying to find any other engineers and conductors out of work and still in Mexico.

$1,000,000 Fire at Houston.

Houston, Tex., May 20.—Fire in Houston's upper business district caused a loss approximating $1,000,000. The fire spread rapidly from a large six-story building.

RICHESON AND VICTIM.

Slayer, the Fatal Chair and Avis Linnell, for Whose Death He Dies.

RICHESON DECLARES HE IS READY TO DIE

Condemned Minister Is Resigned to His Fate.

Boston, May 20.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible, the quicker the better."

These were words spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, to Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his spiritual adviser.

There is reason to believe that Richeson will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight. When the hour of the execution arrives Mr. Johnson, as his spiritual adviser, will precede him in the short walk to the electric chair. Three physicians, the prison doctor, the county medical examiner and the surgeon general of the commonwealth, will attend as the legal witnesses. The prison chaplain also is entitled to attend.

Besides these there may be three witnesses designated by the warden. An appeal having been made to Governor Foss by press associations for representation the warden decided to accede to the wishes of the governor and will probably name as the three other witnesses representatives of three press associations.

KILLS HIMSELF AT CHICAGO

German Nobleman Blames His Downfall to Liquor.

Chicago, May 20.—Henry Spruck von Armenthal, member of the German nobility and large land owner in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, shot and killed himself in his room at a downtown hotel. Hotel attaches who found the body discovered a revolver in Von Armenthal's right hand and a photograph of Mrs. Frances Rosenblatt, niece of the late Nelson Morris, millionaire packer, in the other.

Von Armenthal left a note in which he said that his despondency was due to drink and the fact that he had lost "the finest woman in the world" because of his drinking. He also directed that his lawyer in Seattle and his older brother, Philip Spruck, Baron Solms Sanbach von Armenthal of Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, should dispose of his large estate.

TOWN OF MELVILLE FLOODED

Steamship Goes to Rescue of Those in Peril.

Baton Rouge, La., May 20.—The town of Melville, threatened since the present flood began, was inundated when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, sixteen miles north, broke.

Less than half of the town's 1,100 population remained, the others having left to avoid the long threatened submerging of their homes.

Captain Logan, in charge of the federal rescue corps, dispatched the steamship Minnetonka to Melville to bring away those in peril.

POLITICS HAS THE RIGHT OF WAY

Detracts From an Absorbing Congressional Situation.

HOUSE AND SENATE IN CONTEST

Deadlock Certain to Come Over the Various Bills With Regard to Which the Two Houses Have Divergent Views—Pujo Tells of Raising the Bottom of the Mississippi River.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 20.—[Special.]—It is doubtful whether presidential politics will allow much interest to attach to what would be an absorbing congressional situation. I refer to the contest between the house and the senate. The house has stuffed the appropriation bills with legislation which the senate promptly rejects. That a deadlock will be the result is certain.

So far the men who have charge of the various bills have not come together and shown the divergent views existing between the two houses. There has been a delay indicating a desire to postpone the fight or a wariness about engaging in it. These men may be likened to a pair of wrestlers or pugilists, who circle about each other, sparring ineffectively or watching each other cautiously, each waiting for an advantage, each knowing that sooner or later they must "come to scratch." Even when the contest reaches its most acute stage it is likely to be so outclassed with the presidential situation that it will cause but little comment.

Raising the River.

Congressman Pujo of Louisiana and former Congressman Olcott of New York met on the street the other day and discussed the flood situation on the Mississippi river, Pujo being much interested because his state was being submerged. He explained to Olcott that there were places along the river where the levees were about sixty feet high and the water was within a foot of the top. He went further into the subject and said that in some places the bottom of the river had been raised by the levee system until it was higher than the adjacent land. We have heard such things asserted often, although it seems incredible. It looks as if the river has been raised high enough.

Mann, the Objector.

Long before he became minority leader of the house Congressman Jim Mann won the title of "objector," because he was always opposing bills and motions. Recently two Colorado men were trying to secure the passage of a bill by unanimous consent. Mann said he was going to object. Both Rucker and Taylor asked why he objected, and Mann replied:

"I object to the principle of the bill. I object to the form. I object to the substance. I object to the manner."

"Outside of that is there anything else that you object to?" asked Taylor.

"Show For His Alley."

The minority leader usually interposes before making a flat footed objection the remark "reserving the right to object" and then asks for an explanation of the bill. When a bill was called up not long ago Mann modified his statement by saying, "If the gentleman wants to make a statement I will reserve an objection."

"Does the gentleman object?" asked Speaker Clark, who did not want the time wasted.

"In the end I shall object," replied Mann.

"You might as well make your objection now," said the speaker.

"I always give a man a show for his white alley," was Mann's explanation. "There is not much show for any man's white alley to let him talk and explain and then object to his bill," commented Foster of Illinois.

The New Coins.

If the bill which passed the house providing for coining three cent pieces and one-half cent pieces shall become a law the color of the present pennies will be changed to look like the five cent pieces in circulation. Careful inquiry was made, and the bill when passed provided that the new coins should not in any way interfere with the size of coins in existence or the present sized coins changed. It developed that not only slot machines, but that large banks, use devices for counting coins by their size, and any change in the size of the coins would be very expensive.

Austin's Suggestion.

Congressman Peters of Massachusetts was trying to get through a bill which would cost the government money. Fitzgerald of New York showed a disposition to oppose the measure. During a slight lull Congressman Austin said to Peters:

"I suggest the gentleman reserve the balance of his time to answer the watchdog of the treasury, who is to follow him."

Critics' Lawyers.

Senator Root very frequently huris a brick at lawyers, more particularly that class that lives by picking up cases. Supporting the employers' liability bill, he said it relieved the laboring men from "dependence upon the class of lawyers who have fattened upon their misfortunes, and it substitutes the certainty of reasonable compensation without the necessity of paying a large part to a lawyer for a gambler's risk that every poor fellow who is hurt now takes."

A fool always wants to shorten space and time. A wise man wants to lengthen both.—Ruskin.

HARRY S. NEW.

Will Select the Republican Temporary Presiding Officer.

CHAIRMAN NOT YET NAMED

Harry S. New Will Pick Temporary Presiding Officer.

Chicago, May 20.—The subcommittee on arrangements of the Republican national committee selected Lafayette B. Gleason of New York to be temporary secretary of the Republican national convention. William F. Stone of Maryland was chosen for sergeant-at-arms and Milton W. Blumenberg to be official stenographer.

Chairman Harry S. New of the subcommittee declared he would not name the temporary chairman for several days.

RETURNS INDICATE POORER BUSINESS

Corporation Earnings Show Considerable Decrease.

Washington, May 20.—Corporate earnings in the United States decreased $175,500,000 during 1911. That figure represents the comparative loss in net earnings as reported to Royal E. Cabell, commissioner of internal revenue, for making assessment under the corporation excise tax law.

In a statement issued Mr. Cabell says the returns indicate poorer business conditions last year than in 1910, particularly in iron, steel and certain manufacturing industries.

The gross receipts of corporations did not suffer as great a ratio of decrease as the net. The returns indicate, the commissioner points out, that this was because labor and supplies shared more largely in the receipts of the various companies in 1911 than in 1910. This was particularly so in the case of railroads, he says, which seem generally to have paid increased amounts for labor without a corresponding increase in income being indicated, in many cases an actual decrease in income being shown.

The 1 per cent assessment on the 1911 net earnings of corporations will turn into the federal treasury about $28,278,000, most of which will be paid in June, against $29,432,000 last year, a decrease of $1,154,000.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE ENDS

Miners Will Return to Work Next Wednesday.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 20.—By a vote of 323 to 64 the anthracite mine workers in convention ratified the agreement entered into by their subcommittee with the coal operators and ordered 170,000 men and boys employed in and about the mines to return to work next Wednesday.

The suspension began March 31, when the agreement entered into in 1909 expired.

The advance in wages granted is 10 per cent and with the old sliding scale abolished the increase will net the men about 5 1/2 per cent.

CURIOSITY FATAL TO CHILD

Window Sash Drops as She Peers Within Match Factory.

Duluth, May 20.—The big match factory must be filled with wonderful things, in the imagination of six-year-old Irene M. Klug, and some of her child companions. They could not go in to see, but there was a window open and her companions boasted Irene up so that she could look within. Just then the heavy sash suddenly fell upon her back and shoulders and she suffered injuries which caused her death.

Gem in Fish's Stomach.

Bellingham, Wash., May 20.—In the stomach of a speckled trout, cut open to determine what sort of bait was advisable, Henry Parrott, Homer Musser and Hugo Zillisch wound up a fishing trip at Lake Whatcom the richer by the value of a one-carat diamond of the finest water in a Tiffany setting. It has been appraised at $309.

GIRL CLEARS A MINISTER

Admits She Only Dreamed Stories Circulated About Him.

Denver, May 20.—A Denver girl's dream is responsible for stories reflecting upon the moral character of Rev. G. F. Johnson of Rockford, Ill., for the alleged circulation of which Rev. G. A. Young and Rev. A. C. Leafgreen of this city have been asked to apologize by the Free Swedish church of Rockford.

The young woman in an affidavit here confesses all she alleged was a dream.

At the time she first told the stories she was working in Rockford. Rev. Mr. Leafgreen heard the stories and, it is said, asked Rev. Mr. Young to join with him in an investigation.

Rev. Mr. Young, it is said, refused. Rev. Mr. Leafgreen then wrote letters to Rockford which fell into the hands of enemies of the Rockford minister.

SHIP'S GANG PLANK DROPS

Sixty Persons Fall in Water and Two Are Drowned.

Seattle, May 20.—Two persons are known to have been drowned and forty or more were injured when the adjustable end of a temporary passenger gang plank at the Colman dock dropped, precipitating sixty passengers into the water as they were preparing to board the sound steamer Flyer for Tacoma.

Most of the injured were only slightly bruised or cut by striking against piling or the hull of the Flyer when they fell into the water. All will recover.

A defective cog broke under the weight of the crowding passengers and the shock of the inch drop was sufficient to strip the cogs and let the end of the plank fall into the water.

New York, May 20.—Mary Garden called on the George Washington. She plans to make an automobile tour of the Continent after filling an engagement at the Paris opera and then she will go to Scotland for the summer. "I have taken a shooting box in Scotland," the singer said, "and I am going to have some very good shooting. I am going to invite all my friends to take part."

Roosevelt Organization Follows Pennsylvania Plan.

HEAVY AND EXPENSIVE WORK

Democrats and Republicans Alike Receiving Explicit Instructions How to Cast Their Ballots for the Colonel's Delegates—Roosevelt Managers Claim Plan Resulted in Victory in Recent Pennsylvania Primary.

Washington, May 20.—To guard against the possibility of voters being confused on the Roosevelt-Taft issue the Roosevelt organization has mailed postal cards to every voter in the state of Ohio giving them explicit instructions as to the names of the Roosevelt candidates for national delegates. These cards give also the names of the Roosevelt candidates for delegates to the state convention and for all other offices that will be voted for at Tuesday's primaries.

The cards are endorsed with the following sentence and signature, reproduced in facsimile of Roosevelt's handwriting:

"These men stand for the things I represent. —Theodore Roosevelt."

A vast amount of work and no inconsiderable sum of money were required to send out all these cards. They were sent to Republicans and Democrats alike. No man who wants to vote for Roosevelt on Tuesday will make a mistake when he goes to the polls if he follows the directions thus given him.

This work was deemed essential because the names of Taft and Roosevelt will not appear on the ballots and there was a possibility that voters might be deceived as to the affiliations of the candidates for national delegates. The same conditions obtained in Pennsylvania when primaries were held in that state and the Roosevelt organization followed the same scheme, sending out 1,200,000 post cards at an expense of over $30,000.

In the opinion of the Roosevelt leaders this was the thing that insured their overwhelming victory in that state. Roosevelt in his open speeches has repeatedly expressed concern that men who wished to vote for him might fail to do so because they would not know what delegates to vote for. With the Roosevelt postal in the hands of every voter who goes to the polls there can be no such mistakes.

THREE SETS OF DELEGATES

Republican Ballots in Ohio Are Somewhat Complicated.

Columbus, O., May 20.—All the presidential candidates now in Ohio rested after their whirlwind week leading up to the primary election Tuesday and the campaign managers began a final effort to instruct the voters to properly mark their ballots. Both Republican and Democratic ballots are large and complicated.

On the Republican ballot there will be three sets of candidates for delegates named in each of the twenty-one districts. These are pledged respectively to President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Senator La Follette. The names of the presidential candidates will not appear on the ballots. The six delegates at large will be named by the state convention here in June.

In addition to voting for delegates the Democratic voter will have a special ballot on which the names of Governors Harmon and Wilson will appear. The victorious candidate will name the six delegates at large.

COLONEL VERY CONFIDENT

Believes Ohio Will Take Place With Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Cleveland, May 20.—"I am entirely satisfied with the last week," said Colonel Roosevelt in a statement. "I believe the people of Ohio are sound and will place Ohio beside Pennsylvania and Illinois in this lineup of the people against the powers that prey." Colonel Roosevelt's statement was issued at Mentor, a suburb of Cleveland, where he spent the day with James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior. In it he criticized President Taft sharply, saying that the president had claimed credit for the mining bureau. Colonel Roosevelt asserted that this bureau was established by Mr. Garfield, with the assistance of a commission of engineers.

Sutton Loses Billiard Title.

Chicago, May 20.—Ora Morningstar of Pittsburgh defeated George Sutton of Chicago, champion 18-1 billiard player of the world, in a contest for the title by a score of 500 to 463. The game went sixty-one innings. Sutton's high run was 64 and Morningstar's 52.

Swelling the Unsuccessful Ranks. A great many men have been left behind because of their listlessness, their easy going ways. They were too slow. Opportunities would not wait for them. They would have taken advantage of them, would have succeeded, if the chance had not hurried by so fast. If the opportunities had tarried awhile, had given them a chance to look them over and consult their friends, or if they had only come back, these gentle people would now be on the heights instead of looking wistfully up from the foot of the mountain. But, alas, opportunities never return, and he who is not ready to seize them as they fit onward will have only regrets for his portion.

Turning a Phrase. Mr. Choate's talent for multiplying words which might not signify a great deal, but which not only sounded well, but helped to create with a jury the impression that he sought to convey, is well known. On one occasion in defending an insurance company against which a claim had been brought for the loss of a ship which was declared by the defense to be utterly unseaworthy Mr. Choate made a great impression by including in his plea these swelling words: "And so, gentlemen, overburdened with her well high priceless cargo and carrying her far more precious freight of human life, the vessel started on her voyage, painted, but perdition—a coffin, but no ship!"—Argonaut.

Not an Absolute Embargo. The expert burglar, disdaining the use of explosives, had attacked the lock itself. News Items of Interest to Local Readers Gleaned From Bright and Newsy Exchanges

The West hotel at Little Falls has been sold to parties who will improve the property.

Frank Lycan, a popular hotel man of Bemidji, has been elected as one of the Ninth district delegates to the Chicago national republican convention.

The local breweries and brewer agents at St. Cloud have agreed among themselves that there shall be no more Sunday beer deliveries in that city. Local people heretofore have been able to get beer in case lots or kegs on the Sabbath day and it has caused much trouble to the police.

A Duluth damsel who had been leading a gay life for two years suddenly went insane, and in her effects was found a book containing the names of 200 prominent men of that city, with the dates her admirers had called on her, what they said and the various hotels where the dates were made. There is some trouble brewing if the judge gives up the knowledge.

Three girls at the Minnesota college of agriculture have refused to perform the duty of drawing the lacteal fluid from the udder of the bovine, in other words milk the cow, and have withdrawn from the contest. These girls claim they have no desire to usurp the rights of man.

The bells and whistles will hereafter warn the youths of West Duluth that it is 9 o'clock and time for them to wend their way homeward. In addition to this that town is to have a "safe and sane" 4th of July celebration, and take it altogether the kids of West Duluth think they are being discriminated against.

Up at Farris a man walked right into the brook and scooped up a gunny sack full of fish, using only his hands to catch them with. Can you beat it?

The Aitkin Independent says the people up around Dean Lake and Pine Knoll do not take kindly to the fact that Aitkin voted "dry" last spring and that Aitkin is losing their trade to Cuyuna, and that the latter town is offering to equip and maintain a ferry across the Mississippi river at section 20. This will give the farmers of that vicinity a chance to go to Cuyuna instead of having to go to Aitkin as now.

A petition has been made to the judge of the district court for the removal of P. J. McCauley as engineer of judicial ditch No. 2 in Aitkin county, for the reason that the signers do not believe it is for the best interests of the county that he remain.

The well from which the drinking water for the St. Cloud high school has been used has been found to be unsanitary and condemned. Seepage has found its way into the well. Walter Grenier, the lad who has been terrorizing the teacher and pupils in district 42, Morrison county, has been taken into custody for threatening to shoot the teacher and one of the young lady pupils with whom he had fallen in love. The boy formerly lived in Brainerd and will be sent to the Red Wing training school.

The insurance commissioner says that insurance companies cannot give trading stamps as an inducement to influence business.

THE ORDINARY MAN.

Some of the Snags He Struck in His Journey Through Life.

The ordinary man walked into a florist's shop and, pointing to a beautiful flowering plant, asked its price.

"That Duodecimum floratum?" asked the florist as nearly as the ordinary man understood him. "It is worth a dollar."

He dropped in at his physician's office and requested that gentleman to tell what was the matter with him.

"Oh, you've just got a slight manifestation of Nasopharyngeal combomermus," the doctor said, or words to that apparent effect.

The ordinary man stopped to look at an automobile, and the agent said:

"You see, the differential is set at a tangent to the assimilator, and that brings the obloid paralleling chute in diametric connection with the swiveling trunnion," as nearly as the ordinary man caught the remark.

The ordinary man consulted his lawyer.

"We will appeal to have the decision reversed," declared the attorney, "on the grounds of lex judicatum non contendere posse comitatus." At least that is what the ordinary man gathered.

So he became so bewildered over the way things are told to ordinary people that he was careless when he crossed the street and was run down by an automobile being demonstrated by the agent and was picked up and carried into the doctor's office and called the lawyer to make his will, and later the florist got an order.

And, to pursue him still further, they carved on his monument, "Requiescat In Pace"—Chicago Post.

Standard of Persian Beauty.

"Great care is taken that the Persian girl shall conform to the recognized standard of beauty, which requires her to have a cypress waist, a full moon face, gazelle eyes and eyebrows that meet," says a traveler. "Her eyes, brows and hair must be black as night, her lips, cheeks and gums as red as blood, her skin and teeth as white as almonds and her back, limbs and fingers long. If these conditions are naturally absent they are supplied as far as possible by art. Persian women are always painted, their eyes darkened with khol and their fingers stained with henna."—Chicago News.

Cannon Ball Trees.

One of the most remarkable plants in the world is the cannon ball tree, to be found in British Guiana. The natural height of the tree reaches to eighty or a hundred feet or even taller. The fruit is a hard globular capsule, seven inches or more in diameter, containing numbers of flat, circular seeds rather larger than a dime. It resembles a thirty-two pound shot, is brown in color and very rough.

That Loaded Revolver.

"And you didn't know it was loaded?" "No, judge, I swear I didn't."

"But before pointing it at the deceased, why did you not look into the barrel to see whether or not it was loaded?"

"Why, judge, that would have been a fool thing to do! It might have exploded and killed me."—Houston Post.

Drew a Crowd.

"I once woke up, if not to find myself famous, at least to find myself attracting considerable attention."

"How was that?"

"I had fallen asleep on a hotel veranda with my mouth wide open."—Washington Herald.

Naturally.

Belle Cholly told me last night that I was the hope of his after years and the chance of a lifetime. Belle—Good. What happened after that? Belle—Why, he very naturally embraced the opportunity.—Philadelphia Record.

AN UNPUBLISHED NOVEL.

Burnaby's Handwriting Was So Bad It Could Not Be Read.

It was stated at the time of Colonel Burnaby's death that he had left behind him the manuscript of a novel for which there was considerable competition among the publishers.

This is quite true. The manuscript, a bulky parcel, was handed to me with discretionary power either to publish it myself or to use it in connection with the proposed biography.

Here a singular and, as it finally proved, a fatal obstacle presented itself. Familiar for many years with Burnaby's handwriting, I could not after diligent endeavor make out more than a sentence here and there on the crowded page of manuscript.

Burnaby's writing was, possibly with the exception of Dean Stanley's, the worst I ever saw. It looked as if before sitting down to write a letter he had pulled a twig out of the hedge, mixed a little blacking and then gone ahead.

He wrote the whole of his "Ride to Khiva" and his "Ride on Horseback Through Asia Minor" with his own hand. But before they reached the printer they were fairly written out by a copyist.

The hapless man used to make out as much as he could, then leave blanks for filling up which he had to seek the assistance of the author. Sometimes there were more blanks in a page than words.

Despairing of making anything of the manuscript of the novel, it was submitted to a publisher, who turned upon it his most skillful decipherer. Neither head nor tail could be made of the manuscript, and the intention of publishing the novel was consequently abandoned.—Sir H. W. Lucy in Cornhill Magazine.

CEMETERY OF SUICIDES.

The Dreary Plot in Which Monte Carlo Buries Its Victims.

Matilda Betham-Edwards in her book "In the Heart of the Vosges" advises all visitors to Monte Carlo to go to the suicides' cemetery before those other places for which Monte Carlo is famous. She describes the small inclosure, walled in and having a gate of open ironwork, always locked.

"Here, in close proximity to garden rubbish," she says, "broken bottles and other refuse rest the suicides of Monte Carlo, buried by the parish gravedigger, without funeral and without any kind of religious ceremony. Each grave is marked by an upright bit of wood, somewhat larger than that by which gardeners mark their seeds, and on which is painted a number, nothing more. Apart from these are stakes driven into the ground which mark as yet unappropriated spots. The indescribable dreariness of the scene is heightened by two monumental stones garlanded with wreaths and surrounded by flowers. The first records the memory of a young artisan and was raised by his fellow workmen; the second commemorates brotherly and sisterly affection. Both suicides were driven to self murder by play."

"The remainder are mere numbers. There are poor gamblers as well as rich, and it is only or chiefly the poor ones who are put into the ground here. The bodies of rich folks' relatives, if identified, are immediately removed. Many suicides are buried at Nice and Mentone, but the larger proportion further off still."

SHAKESPEARE AS AN ACTOR.

He Evidently Was Not a Player of Any Great Power.

It was probably in 1598 that Shakespeare first appeared as Adam and as the elder Knowell, and it was probably in 1602 that he first personated the ghost, being then thirty-eight years old, says Brander Matthews in the North American Review. He was to remain on the stage ten or twelve years longer, but there is no reason to suppose that the parts he played in later life were any more important.

We do not know what characters he undertook in the plays which he wrote after "Hamlet," nor do we know what parts he assumed in the many pieces by other authors which made up the repertory of the company. That he continued to act we need not doubt. For instance, he was one of the performers in Ben Jonson's "Sejanus," probably produced in 1602 or 1603.

But the absence of specific information on this point is evidence that he did not impress himself upon his contemporaries as an actor of power. As Lewes declared, "The mere fact that we hear nothing of his qualities as an actor implies that there was nothing above the line, nothing memorable to be spoken of." The parts which we believe him to have played did not "demand or admit various excellencies."

Shakespeare may have had lofty his trionic ambitions, but probably he was not allowed to gratify his longings, and certainly we have no tradition or hint that he ever failed in what he attempted in the theater. Perhaps we are justified in believing that he had gone on the stage merely as the easiest means of immediately earning his living, that he did not greatly care for acting and that he was satisfied to assume the responsible but subordinate parts for which he was best fitted.

Paris Postage Stamp Exchange.

"A curb market in Paris" was written on a picture postcard received from that city by a Wall street broker. It showed an open space thronged with men, women and boys, many of whom held books and portfolios. A letter by the same mail explained that this was the "postage stamp exchange," where dealers and collectors assembled once every month "to do business and to regulate prices." "Here one may find schoolboys, great lawyers, society women, shrewd traders, writers, merchants and men of all professions exchanging, buying and showing stamps, and, although there is no organization, all seem to follow unwritten laws, and the gathering is as interesting to look upon as that stock market in your city which has no roof over its head."—New York Tribune.

LINCOLN'S MOTHER.

The Family Pedigree of the Hankses and Their Early Deeds.

A friend requests me to give for publication, if I can do so, a sketch of the family of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln. She tells me she has read every history of Abraham Lincoln and considers it very strange that nothing has ever been written by the historians of the president's mother, except that her name was Nancy Hanks.

The historians never made any effort to trace the pedigree of the family. Raymond, in his "Life and State Papers of Abraham Lincoln," declares nothing is known concerning her ancestry or early life. He merely mentions that she was a Virginian by birth. The name Hanks is rare in America, yet we have a straighter line on the pedigree of the Hankses than we have of the Lincolns. Beyond the grandfather of Abe Lincoln, we know absolutely nothing of the family pedigree.

The earliest account we have of the Hankses is their first appearance in Gloucester county, Va., in 1673. In deed book No. 6, land grants, page 472, 1673, is recorded the grant of 264 acres to Thomas Hanks. And on page 476, same year, 1673, is recorded a patent to Thomas Hanks for 500 acres. In the early colonial history of Virginia a person who paid for the passage of a person who came to settle in Virginia was entitled to a land grant of several hundred acres. This was why he was given a grant of land. The patent of 500 acres which is recorded was land paid for in cash or tobacco, which was the circulating medium in Virginia. In course of time the family increased and emigrated westward. We next hear of them in Orange county, 140 miles west of Gloucester. Among the marriages recorded in Orange court-house on March 25, 1803, is Rodney Hanks, son of Reuben and Elizabeth Hanks, to Alice Chandler. But they didn't stop at Orange courthouse. We find a family of them in Rockingham county, Va., in 1790, and another in Shenandoah county. In 1780 Abraham Lincoln, grandfather of President Lincoln, removed to Kentucky from Rockingham county, Va., and we are certain that the Hanks family was with the Lincolns during that journey. The next account we have of the Hankses is in 1806. In that year, in Kentucky, Thomas Lincoln, father of the president, married Nancy Hanks.

The next account of the Hankses was at the battle of Tippecanoe, in Indiana, Nov. 7, 1811. We find the names of Peter and James Hanks. Peter was killed. He was a member of Captain Berry's company of militia from Kentucky. James belonged to a company of mounted riflemen and was from Kentucky. They may have been brothers, and if so I am certain they were the brothers of Nancy Hanks. In six years after the battle of Tippecanoe Thomas Lincoln removed from Kentucky to Indiana.—Des Moines Register.

Umbrellas and Parasols.

Fashions change in umbrellas as well as in clothes. We find on visiting the London museum that George IV. used to carry a green silk umbrella fringed with gold and about twice as large as the umbrella of today. Parasols, too, have diminished in size since they first came into use. Henri Estienne, writing in 1578, speaks of a parasol as capable generally of sheltering four persons from the sun. And when they diminished in circumference the material remained of the heaviest. Red velvet parasols, with heavy gold fringes, were carried by ladies of fashion in the days of Louis XIV. At that time it was possible, when crossing a bridge in Paris, to hire a parasol at one end and deposit it at the other, the charge for the accommodation being a sou.—London Chronicle.

Why Madge Declined Tea.

Madge, three years old, is of a positive nature and always ready with independent opinions. A woman visiting Madge's home sat next to the little girl at table and offered her a spoonful of her tea, which was declined with an emphatic shake of the head.

"Take a little," urged the visitor—"just a little for your stomach's sake."

"I ain't dot no tumnick ache," was the indignant reply.—Indianapolis News.

Hindu Weddings and Burials.

The expenses of a Hindu wedding come upon the bride's father, and they are so great that a family sometimes is ruined or impoverished for many years by the marriage of a daughter. The next most costly affair to the Hindu is the burial services. Should the head of the family escape bankruptcy when his daughter is married the eldest son is almost sure to be ruined when he buries his father.

The "Doc" Needed Air.

A terrible automobile accident occurred at the square the other evening. For further particulars see the papers. We only tell what we know about it. The man who had been injured was a millionaire several times over. The first physician to arrive at the spot was a young chap, just out of Reserve. When the victim opened his eyes he looked directly into the face of the young medic.

"Doc," he gasped, "I'll give you $1,000 if you'll save my life!"

Then the policeman butted in. "Stand back," he warned the crowd—"stand back" and the doctor said:

The doctor was the man that needed it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Stevenson's Remonstrance.

"You see, the differential is set at a tangent to the assmilator, and that brings the obloid paralleling chute in diametric connection with the swiveling trunnion," as nearly as the ordinary man caught the remark.

The ordinary man consulted his lawyer.

"We will appeal to have the decision reversed," declared the attorney, "on the grounds of lex Judicatum non contendere posse comitatus." At least that is what the ordinary man gathered.

So he became so bewildered over the way things are told to ordinary people that he was careless when he crossed the street and was run down by an automobile being demonstrated by the agent and was picked up and carried into the doctor's office and called the lawyer to make his will, and later the florist got an order.

And, to pursue him still further, they carved on his monument, "Requiescat in Pace"—Chicago Post.

Standard of Persian Beauty.

"Great care is taken that the Persian girl shall conform to the recognized standard of beauty, which requires her to have a cypress waist, a full moon face, gazelle eyes and eyebrows that meet," says a traveler. "Her eyes, brows and hair must be black as night, her lips, cheeks and gums as red as blood, her skin and teeth as white as almonds and her back, limbs and fingers long. If these conditions are naturally absent they are supplied as far as possible by art. Persian women are always painted, their eyes darkened with khol and their fingers stained with henna."—Chicago News.

Cannon Ball Trees.

One of the most remarkable plants in the world is the cannon ball tree, to be found in British Guiana. The natural height of the tree reaches to eighty or a hundred feet or even taller. The fruit is a hard globular capsule, seven inches or more in diameter, containing numbers of flat, circular seeds rather larger than a dime. It resembles a thirty-two pound shot, is brown in color and very rough.

AN UNPUBLISHED NOVEL.

Burnaby's Handwriting Was So Bad It Could Not Be Read.

It was stated at the time of Colonel Burnaby's death that he had left behind him the manuscript of a novel for which there was considerable competition among the publishers.

This is quite true. The manuscript, a bulky parcel, was handed to me with discretionary power either to publish it myself or to use it in connection with the proposed biography.

Here a singular and, as it finally proved, a fatal obstacle presented itself. Familiar for many years with Burnaby's handwriting, I could not after diligent endeavor make out more than a sentence here and there on the crowded page of manuscript.

Burnaby's writing was, possibly with the exception of Dean Stanley's, the worst I ever saw. It looked as if before sitting down to write a letter he had pulled a twig out of the hedge, mixed a little blacking and then gone ahead.

He wrote the whole of his "Ride to Khiva" and his "Ride on Horseback Through Asia Minor" with his own hand. But before they reached the printer they were fairly written out by a copyist.

The hapless man used to make out as much as he could, then leave blanks for filling up which he had to seek the assistance of the author. Sometimes there were more blanks in a page than words.

Despairing of making anything of the manuscript of the novel, it was submitted to a publisher, who turned upon it his most skillful decipherer. Neither head nor tail could be made of the manuscript, and the intention of publishing the novel was consequently abandoned.—Sir H. W. Lucy in Cornhill Magazine.

CEMETERY OF SUICIDES.

The Dreary Plot in Which Monte Carlo Buries Its Victims.

Matilda Betham-Edwards in her book "In the Heart of the Vosges" advises all visitors to Monte Carlo to go to the suicides' cemetery before those other places for which Monte Carlo is famous. She describes the small inclosure, walled in and having a gate of open ironwork, always locked.

"Here, in close proximity to garden rubbish," she says, "broken bottles and other refuse rest the suicides of Monte Carlo, buried by the parish gravedigger, without funeral and without any kind of religious ceremony. Each grave is marked by an upright bit of wood, somewhat larger than that by which gardeners mark their seeds, and on which is painted a number, nothing more. Apart from these are stakes driven into the ground which mark as yet unappropriated spots. The indescribable dreariness of the scene is heightened by two monumental stones garlanded with wreaths and surrounded by flowers. The first records the memory of a young artisan and was raised by his fellow workmen; the second commemorates brotherly and sisterly affection. Both suicides were driven to self murder by play."

"The remainder are mere numbers. There are poor gamesters as well as rich, and it is only or chiefly the poor ones who are put into the ground here. The bodies of rich folks' relatives, if identified, are immediately removed. Many suicides are buried at Nice and Mentone, but the larger proportion further off still."

SHAKESPEARE AS AN ACTOR.

He Evidently Was Not a Player of Any Great Power.

It was probably in 1598 that Shakespeare first appeared as Adam and as the elder Knowell, and it was probably in 1602 that he first personated the ghost, being then thirty-eight years old, says Brander Matthews in the North American Review. He was to remain on the stage ten or twelve years longer, but there is no reason to suppose that the parts he played in later life were any more important.

We do not know what characters he undertook in the plays which he wrote after "Hamlet," nor do we know what parts he assumed in the many pieces by other authors which made up the repertory of the company. That he continued to act we need not doubt. For instance, he was one of the performers in Ben Jonson's "Sejanus," probably produced in 1602 or 1603.

But the absence of specific information on this point is evidence that he did not impress himself upon his contemporaries as an actor of power. As Lewes declared, "The mere fact that we hear nothing of his qualities as an actor implies that there was nothing above the line, nothing memorable to be spoken of." The parts which we believe him to have played did not "demand or admit various excellencies."

Shakespeare may have had lofty histrionic ambitions, but probably he was not allowed to gratify his longings, and certainly we have no tradition or hint that he ever failed in what he attempted in the theater. Perhaps we are justified in believing that he had gone on the stage merely as the easiest means of immediately earning his living, that he did not greatly care for acting and that he was satisfied to assume the responsible but subordinate parts for which he was best fitted.

Paris Postage Stamp Exchange.

"A curb market in Paris" was written on a picture postcard received from that city by a Wall street broker. It showed an open space thronged with men, women and boys, many of whom held books and portfolios. A letter by the same mail explained that this was the "postage stamp exchange," where dealers and collectors assembled once every month "to do business and to regulate prices." "Here one may find schoolboys, great lawyers, society women, shrewd traders, writers, merchants and men of all professions exchanging, buying and showing stamps, and, although there is no organization, all seem to follow unwritten laws, and the gathering is as interesting to look upon as that stock market in your city which has no roof over its head."—New York Tribune.

LINCOLN'S MOTHER.

The Family Pedigree of the Hankses and Their Early Deeds.

A friend requests me to give for publication, if I can do so, a sketch of the family of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln. She tells me she has read every history of Abraham Lincoln and considers it very strange that nothing has ever been written by the historians of the president's mother, except that her name was Nancy Hanks.

The historians never made any effort to trace the pedigree of the family. Raymond, in his "Life and State Papers of Abraham Lincoln," declares nothing is known concerning her ancestry or early life. He merely mentions that she was a Virginian by birth. The name Hanks is rare in America, yet we have a straighter line on the pedigree of the Hankses than we have of the Lincolns. Beyond the grandfather of Abe Lincoln, we know absolutely nothing of the family pedigree.

The earliest account we have of the Hankses is their first appearance in Gloucester county, Va., in 1673. In deed book No. 6, land grants, page 472, 1673, is recorded the grant of 264 acres to Thomas Hanks. And on page 476, same year, 1673, is recorded a patent to Thomas Hanks for 500 acres. In the early colonial history of Virginia a person who paid for the passage of a person who came to settle in Virginia was entitled to a land grant of several hundred acres. This was why he was given a grant of land. The patent of 500 acres which is recorded was land paid for in cash or tobacco, which was the circulating medium in Virginia. In course of time the family increased and emigrated westward. We next hear of them in Orange county, 140 miles west of Gloucester. Among the marriages recorded in Orange courthouse on March 26, 1803, is Rodney Hanks, son of Reuben and Elizabeth Hanks, to Alice Chandler. But they didn't stop at Orange courthouse. We find a family of them in Rockingham county, Va., in 1790, and another in Shenandoah county. In 1780 Abraham Lincoln, grandfather of President Lincoln, removed to Kentucky from Rockingham county, Va., and we are certain that the Hanks family was with the Lincolns during that journey. The next account we have of the Hankses is in 1806. In that year, in Kentucky, Thomas Lincoln, father of the president, married Nancy Hanks.

The next account of the Hankses was at the battle of Tippecanoe, in Indiana, Nov. 7, 1811. We find the names of Peter and James Hanks. Peter was killed. He was a member of Captain Berry's company of militia from Kentucky. James belonged to a company of mounted riflemen and was from Kentucky. They may have been brothers, and if so I am certain they were the brothers of Nancy Hanks. In six years after the battle of Tippecanoe Thomas Lincoln removed from Kentucky to Indiana.—Des Moines Register.

Umbrellas and Parasols.

Fashions change in umbrellas as well as in clothes. We find on visiting the London museum that George IV. used to carry a green silk umbrella fringed with gold and about twice as large as the umbrella of today. Parasols, too, have diminished in size since they first came into use. Henri Estienne, writing in 1578, speaks of a parasol as capable generally of sheltering four persons from the sun. And when they diminished in circumference the material remained of the heaviest. Red velvet parasols, with heavy gold fringes, were carried by ladies of fashion in the days of Louis XIV. At that time it was possible, when crossing a bridge in Paris, to hire a parasol at one end and deposit it at the other, the charge for the accommodation being a sou.—London Chronicle.

Hindu Weddings and Burials.

The expenses of a Hindu wedding come upon the bride's father, and they are so great that a family sometimes is ruined or impoverished for many years by the marriage of a daughter. The next most costly affair to the Hindu is the burial services. A terrible automobile accident occurred at the square the other evening. For further particulars see the papers. We only tell what we know about it. The man who had been injured was a millionaire several times over. The first physician to arrive at the spot was a young chap, just out of Reserve. When the victim opened his eyes he looked directly into the face of the young medic.

"Doc," he gasped, "I'll give you $1,000 if you'll save my life!"

Then the policeman butted in. "Stand back," he warned the crowd—"stand back an' give the doctor air!"

Sauk Rapids, Minn., May 19.—Charging that Pitcher Jake Tillman, of the Benton County team, repeatedly used rosin to keep the wet ball from slipping, Brainerd has filed a protest on the Sunday Brainerd-Benton County game played at Sauk Rapids. Playing Manager Considine several times objected to the alleged practice indulged in by the Benton County pitcher. Cook, Brainerd's pitcher, did the best he could with a wet, muddy ball and was clearly at a disadvantage when pitching against a pitcher reinforced by alleged applications of rosin. Nevertheless, Cook struck out 19. Tillman mowed down 15 Brainerd batters. That Brainerd found Tillman is noticed by the 9 hits they got from him and by 9 men left on bases.

The grounds were in a deplorable condition. The outfield was wet and soggy and holes abounded here, Center Fielder Kalland catching his foot in one pitfall when going for a fly and falling down hill and spraining his ankle. Very little of the field is level. Towards right field and center field the grounds run down hill and a man does not see a grounder until it shoots up from the horizon. The home team, of course, benefits from such a rough field as they have grown accustomed to its undulations. The game was played in a drizzling rain to the accompaniment of a lot of wrangling. Brainerd started the scoring in the first inning by counting on a single and a two bagger. Tillman tightened after the two base (Continued on page 6)

JAMES SMITH PASSES AWAY

Well Known Railroad Man and Hotel Owner Called to His Reward Sunday Morning

James Smith, of 213 North Ninth street, for 25 years a resident of Brainerd, well known in railway and business circles, passed away Sunday morning at six o'clock, death being due to diabetes. The deceased had been a sufferer of this malady for several years and took to his bed two weeks ago. Mr. Smith was for years a conductor on the Northern Pacific railway and later a passenger conductor on the Minnesota & International railway. Every passenger on his route knew "Jim," as he was familiarly called. He always had a cheery word for everyone and made friends readily. Leaving the railway vocation he entered business life and for four years conducted the City hotel with great success. He was born in Ypsilanti, Mich., on January 16, 1859. In 1887 he was married to Miss Anna T. McCarthy, at Brainerd. He leaves surviving his widow and the children, Genevieve, Lillian, Leonard, Kirk, Gertrude and Alice. His four brothers and two sisters, residing in San Antonio, Texas; Detroit, Mich.; Denver, Colorado; Ypsilanti, Mich.; have been notified of his demise and will, if possible attend the funeral. Mr. Smith was prominent in fraternal life and held membership in the Elks, A. O. U. E., Eagles and the O. R. C. orders. He was a member of the Catholic church. The funeral services will be held from St. Francis Catholic church at nine o'clock Wednesday morning. The many friends of the deceased extend their sincere sympathy to the widow and the family.

He pounded out a two base hit when once to bat. On May 17 Missoula played errorless ball. Bush pitched and struck out 7 men while his opponent Dress-out struck out 6. The score was 2 to 4 in Salt Lake's favor. Salt Lake worked a squeeze play in the third inning which netted 3 runs and Missoula was unable to overcome the lead.

E. H. HUGHES TO ADDRESS CLASS

The Noted Methodist Bishop of San Francisco Delivers Commencement Address May 31

Last Thursday evening the graduating class presented "The Sweet Girl Graduate" in the high school auditorium to a large and appreciative audience. This event was of particular interest as it is the first time a class had the opportunity of using the auditorium for a play. The stage was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Manager Brown of the opera house.

The play is the story of what every household having a daughter to graduate, must experience during the few days preceding graduation. The trials over dress, oration and social engagements were all graphically pictured. The parts were all well taken from the "Sweet Girl Graduate" to the old maid aunt who, thank heaven, never graduated.

The class is thinking of using the proceeds from the play to purchase book cases for the assembly room. It would seem that this endeavor of the class is an excellent one, for this will be an impetus for the growth of a good high school library and at the same time will add much to the appearance of the assembly room.

The class has selected Rev. G. P. Sheridan to give the baccalaureate sermon. This will be given at the Congregational church on Sunday evening, May 26. Special music is being prepared for the occasion.

The commencement exercises, which will be held on Friday evening, May 31st, are looked forward to with unusual interest this year, for the board of education is to be congratulated upon securing the services of Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of San Francisco, for the evening. He is one of the best known bishops in the country. When a very young man he won the Interstate oratorical contest, an association of nine states. This success won for him a good scholarship to an eastern university and later a good pulpit in Massachusetts. He has occupied some of the best pulpits in the country, Washington D. C., New York City. In his early thirties he became president of De Pauw University at Green Castle, Indiana. At that time he was the youngest man holding the presidency of a large university. He was for some years a member of the state board of education in Indiana and was at that time considered one of Indiana's strongest commencement speakers. Four years ago he was made bishop and stationed on the Pacific coast. During the month of May he is one of the presiding bishops at the National conference at Minneapolis. He will give addresses at Cloquet, Brainerd, Winona and probably Rochester. President Vincent said

when here, "the board of education should consider themselves fortunate in securing the services of Bishop Hughes, for he will give a very inspiring address." His address will probably be more of a popular nature than along educational lines. The class to be graduated on Friday evening will consist of 24 members. The class colors are pink and green. The class motto will be "Out of School Life Into Life's School." Following are the members of the class: Emily Anderson, Ethel Irene Angel, William Paley Barker, Caroline K. Barron, Esther R. As the shops are the mainspring of industry in this city, prosperity at the Northern Pacific shops means prosperity for the town and county and is also an indication of the good times in general existing throughout the business world.

NORWEGIAN CELEBRATION

Day of Independence is Observed With Appropriate Services in Brainerd

ATTY. N. N. BERGHEIM SPOKE

He Eloquently Summarized Norwegian History From the Early Vikings to Present Time

Brainerd Norwegians and their friends appropriately celebrated the national independence day of Norway at the Citizens State bank hall. The history of the Scandinavian nation was commemorated in song and story, dating back to the early days when the Vikings roamed the seas and leaving their imprint and influence upon the world which remains to this date.

Attorney N. N. Bergheim, of Little Falls, was the orator of the evening. He delivered an able and patriotic address. He summarized Norwegian history from the early records of Vikings and their wanderings and conquests down to the stirring events of the present time. He praised those in this country for their reverence and respect for their native land and its traditions but asked them to remember that they are citizens of the United States, to which they owe their loyalty. His address was well received and was greeted with hearty applause.

The Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church choir sang several numbers. Mrs. Jennie Myren-Lind played a piano selection.

After the program there was a dance, the music being furnished by the Blue Ribbon orchestra. The heavy downpour of rain kept many from the celebration, but in spite of weather conditions a fairly large attendance was present.

Attorney and Mrs. N. N. Bergheim and daughter, who enjoyed the hospitality of friends in the city, returned home the next morning to Little Falls, making the trip by automobile.

Sauk Rapids, Minn., May 19—Charging that Pitcher Jake Tillman, of the Benton County team, repeatedly used rosin to keep the wet ball from slipping, Brainerd has filed a protest on the Sunday Brainerd-Benton County game played at Sauk Rapids. Playing Manager Considine several times objected to the alleged practice indulged in by the Benton County pitcher. Cook, Brainerd's pitcher, did the best he could with a wet, muddy ball and was clearly at a disadvantage when pitching against a pitcher reinforced by alleged applications of rosin. Nevertheless, Cook struck out 10. Tillman mowed down 15 Brainerd batters. That Brainerd found Tillman is noticed by the 9 hits they got from him and by 9 men left on bases.

The grounds were in a deplorable condition. The outfield was wet and soggy and holes abounded here, Center Fielder Kalland catching his foot in one pitfall when going for a fly and falling down hill and spraining his ankle. Very little of the field is level. Towards right field and center field the grounds run down hill and a man does not see a grounder until it shoots up from the horizon. The home team, of course, benefits from such a rough field as they have grown accustomed to its undulations.

The game was played in a drizzling rain to the accompaniment of a lot of wrangling. Brainerd started the scoring in the first inning by counting on a single and a two bagger. Tillman tightened after the two base

JAMES SMITH PASSES AWAY

Well Known Railroad Man and Hotel Owner Called to His Reward Sunday Morning

James Smith, of 213 North Ninth street, for 25 years a resident of Brainerd, well known in railway and business circles, passed away Sunday morning at six o'clock, death being due to diabetes. The deceased had been a sufferer of this malady for several years and took to his bed two weeks ago.

Mr. Smith was for years a conductor on the Northern Pacific railway and later a passenger conductor on the Minnesota & International railway. Every passenger on his route knew "Jim," as he was familiarly called. He always had a cheery word for everyone and made friends readily. Leaving the railway vocation he entered business life and for four years conducted the City hotel with great success. He was born in Ypsilanti, Mich., on January 16, 1859. In 1887 he was married to Miss Anna T. McCarthy, at Brainerd. He leaves surviving his widow and the children, Genevieve, Lillian, Leonard, Kirk, Gertrude and Alice. His four brothers and two sisters, residing in San Antonio, Texas; Detroit, Mich.; Denver, Colorado; Ypsilanti, Mich.; have been notified of his demise and will, if possible attend the funeral.

Mr. Smith was prominent in fraternal life and held membership in the Elks, A. O. H., Eagles and the O. R. C. orders. He was a member of the Catholic church. The funeral services will be held from St. Francis Catholic church at nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

The many friends of the deceased extend their sincere sympathy to the widow and the family.

BUSH MAKES GOOD

Missoula, With Bush Pitching, Wins Game From Salt Lake May 16, 5 to 4 Score

Bush, pitching for Missoula, continues to make good. On May 16 he pitched part of a game and Missoula won from Salt Lake by a 5 to 4 score. Bush relieved Annis, pitching 1 and 1-3 innings. He pounded out a two base hit when once to bat.

On May 17 Missoula played errorless ball. Bush pitched and struck out 7 men while his opponent Dresser struck out 6. The score was 2 to 4 in Salt Lake's favor. Salt Lake worked a squeeze play in the third inning which netted 3 runs and Missoula was unable to overcome the lead.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Began With the Presentation of the "Sweet Girl Graduate" on Thursday Evening

E. H. HUGHES TO ADDRESS CLASS

The Noted Methodist Bishop of San Francisco Delivers Commencement Address May 31

Last Thursday evening the graduating class presented "The Sweet Girl Graduate" in the high school auditorium to a large and appreciative audience. This event was of particular interest as it is the first time a class had the opportunity of using the auditorium for a play. The stage was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Manager Brown of the opera house.

The play is the story of what every household having a daughter to graduate, must experience during the few days preceding graduation. The trials over dress, oration and social engagements were all graphically pictured. The parts were all well taken from the "Sweet Girl Graduate" to the old maid aunt who, thank heaven, never graduated.

The class is thinking of using the proceeds from the play to purchase book cases for the assembly room. It would seem that this endeavor of the class is an excellent one, for this will be an impetus for the growth of a good high school library and at the same time will add much to the appearance of the assembly room.

The class has selected Rev. G. P. Sheridan to give the baccalaureate sermon. This will be given at the Congregational church on Sunday evening, May 26. Special music is being prepared for the occasion.

The commencement exercises, which will be held on Friday evening, May 31st, are looked forward to with unusual interest this year, for the board of education is to be congratulated upon securing the services of Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of San Francisco, for the evening. He is one of the best known bishops in the country. When a very young man he won the Interstate oratorical contest, an association of nine states. This success won for him a good scholarship to an eastern university and later a good pulpit in Massachusetts. He has occupied some of the best pulpits in the country, Washington D. C., New York City. In his early thirties he became president of De Pauw University at Green Castle, Indiana. At that time he was the youngest man holding the presidency of a large university. He was for some years a member of the state board of education in Indiana and was at that time considered one of Indiana's strongest commencement speakers. Four years ago he was made bishop and stationed on the Pacific coast. During the month of May he is one of the presiding bishops at the National conference at Minneapolis. He will give addresses at Cloquet, Brainerd, Winona and probably Rochester. President Vincent said when here, "the board of education should consider themselves fortunate in securing the services of Bishop Hughes, for he will give a very inspiring address." His address will probably be more of a popular nature than along educational lines.

The class to be graduated on Friday evening will consist of 24 members. The class colors are pink and green. The class motto will be "Out of School Life Into Life's School." Following are the members of the class:

Emily Anderson, Ethel Irene Angel, William Paley Barker, Caroline K. Barron, Esther R. Bellmuth, John J. Brady, Dorothy H. Burrell, Frances Funk, Mearle M. Graham, Mary J. Horak, Richard M. BIGGEST PAY DAY IN YEARS

The pay roll at the Northern Pacific railway shops reached a record figure today when approximately $73,000 was disbursed. This exceeds by $20,000 some of the pay days of the short time winter months. The effect of this disbursement of wages is noticeable in Brainerd. As the shops are the mainstay of industry in this city, prosperity at the Northern Pacific shops means prosperity for the town and county and is also an indication of the good times in general existing throughout the business world.

About the fitting of corsets

Our city was recently canvassed by a representative of a certain corset house for a corset which was supposed to be a corset made to the measure of the party purchasing it.

Many women purchased them believing that they were securing the highest of corset efficiency. Many of these corsets have utterly failed to give the results desired and many have discarded them and returned to the corsets which have proved to be satisfactory in every respect—Gossard, Nemo, W. NORWEGIAN CELEBRATION

ATTY. N. N. BERGHEIM SPOKE

He Eloquently Summarized Norwegian History From the Early Vikings to Present Time

Brainerd Norwegians and their friends appropriately celebrated the national independence day of Norway at the Citizens State bank hall. The history of the Scandinavian nation was commemorated in song and story, dating back to the early days when the Vikings roamed the seas and leaving their imprint and influence upon the world which remains to this date.

Attorney N. N. Bergheim, of Little Falls, was the orator of the evening. He delivered an able and patriotic address. He summarized Norwegian history from the early records of Vikings and their wanderings and conquests down to the stirring events of the present time. He praised those in this country for their reverence and respect for their native land and its traditions but asked them to remember that they are citizens of the United States, to which they owe their loyalty. His address was well received and was greeted with hearty applause.

The Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church choir sang several numbers. Mrs. Jennie Mysen-Lind played a piano selection.

After the program there was a dance, the music being furnished by the Blue Ribbon orchestra. The heavy downpour of rain kept many from the celebration, but in spite of weather conditions a fairly large attendance was present.

Attorney and Mrs. N. N. Bergheim and daughter, who enjoyed the hospitality of friends in the city, returned home the next morning to Little Falls, making the trip by automobile.

It is only once in an exceedingly long time that the public has the opportunity of witnessing such a performance at popular prices and the opera house should be crowded to the doors.

Bob Fitzsimmons Coming

The world's greatest fighter, Mr. Bob Fitzsimmons, will positively appear at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday, May 22 in the four act drama, "A Fight For Love," written especially for him by Hal Reid. He will be ably supported by Miss Maybelle Byrnes, and a strong cast. This attraction will without a doubt prove to be the best drawing card of the season. It shows Fitzsimmons in his training quarters, in the great arena, also an actual horse-shoeing scene in the village blacksmith shop, where he makes a horse shoe in full view of the audience. This will be the last opportunity of seeing this famous celebrity.

SOME WILSON SENTIMENT TOO

Aitkin County Believed to be for the New Jersey Candidate for the Presidency

CANDIDATES NATL. DELEGATE

Some Wilson Sentiment is Apparent in Stearns and Benton Counties to the South

The Aitkin caucuses will be held on May 25th in Aitkin county and the county convention at Aitkin on May 29. It is freely predicted that Aitkin will go for Wilson.

A man well versed in the business and political life of the counties south of Brainerd visited Stearns and Benton counties last week and stated that there was a decided and growing sentiment in those counties for Wilson.

Political observers in this southern section of the district say that M. T. Dunn, the president of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd, is being favorably mentioned as being a good man for delegate to the national democratic convention.

Stearns county has two candidates as delegates to the national convention, Fred Schlipplin and Joe Koslow, of St. Cloud. Aitkin county is pressing the candidacy of J. B. Galarneault, former state bank examiner.

A feeling is growing in Brainerd that the Crow Wing county delegation may be split and that Wilson will get a share of it. The Crow Wing county convention will be held on May 29.

swat and struck out three batters. They added another in the fourth on a two bagger and a passed ball. In the sixth they counted another on a hit and a pair of bobbles. In the eighth a pass, a brilliant steal by Hagan and an error granted them their fourth score.

Brainerd played well, but the luck in every case broke on the Benton County side. They found Tillman and filled the bases. Cook pitched as well as he could with the wet, slobbery ball and every man on the Brainerd team did his level best. The Brainerd City band sat in the grand stand and played several selections including, "Cheer, Cheer, The Gang's all Here."

Tillman hammered a home run over the fence, one of the longest drives ever seen in Sauk Rapids. In the protests made about the alleged use of resin Tillman denied that he was defacing the ball and stated he was getting his hand warm. Another point that caused Manager Considine to call his team from the field was the permitting of two runs by Umpire Bouton, when to all appearances the play would only permit of one count. In the seventh Kessner and Tillman were on third and second when Catcher Roderick attempted to catch Kessner off the base and hit him in the back. The ball went into the crowd and both runners came home. Umpire Bouton held that no ground rules had been made pertaining to the crowd along the third base line and so no ruling could be made other than to grant the scores. The score:

Play a Tie Game

Little Falls, Minn., May 19—The St. Cloud game here Sunday was called because of rain at the end of the ninth inning with the score a tie, being 3 to 3. Umpire Galley and the St. Cloud team left the field at once although the Little Falls team and the spectators were in favor of finishing the game. The rain ceased a few minutes after the field was vacated and the game could have been finished. The pitching honors were evenly divided between Thielman and Dominick although both were bothered by the ball being wet. Dominick struck out 5 and Thielman 9 men.

NOTES OF THE GAME

The engineer and the fireman on the special entered into the spirit of the occasion and decorated the engine with flags and bunting. Passing trains cheered the special.

A feature of the outing was the playing of the Brainerd City band. "We can lick your baseball team," said one youthful Benton county fan, "but nobody can beat the band." Director E. J. Sykora had 28 musicians to the game.

A severe lung test was given the band boys when they ascended the hill near the ball park which is supplied with a gradient of 45 degrees. The musicians marched half way up the hill playing the "Gang's all Here. When they sat in the grand stand the tuba player was near the roof and rain trickled down the bell of the big instrument. The trombone players either hit a companion in the cranium or went through a knot hole in the none too watertight roof. The music did much to cheer the Brainerd team and assisted materially in collecting a large crowd at the ball park.

Sauk Rapids was not prepared for the rush of people and in many instances eating houses and lunch counters were quickly depleted of all their hamburger steaks and ham and coffee. Dinners ranged in price from 25, 30, to 50 cents.

J. B. Galarneault, of the Aitkin County State bank, returning from Foley, just managed to catch the special by driving up to the train and boarding it as it pulled out of the station. His nephew, Thomas Galarneault of Foley, played first base for Benton County.

Ed. Lawson did not pitch for the first time in the game. In the preceding Sunday's game with Little Falls, he injured his finger of the left hand. On Friday it pained him so much that he saw a physician at St. Paul who lanced the finger and found the bone had been splintered and that blood poisoning had set in. He will be out of the game some time.

The Crosby team utilized the special in their journey to Royalton. The manager of the team, J. A. Pokewinski, claims the entire credit of catching the Hungarian murderer, Tony Schifter, as he walked along Main street towards the Spalding hotel at Crosby. Pokewinski claims that Mike Rail did not grab the Hungarian and turned his gun over to Pokewinski, who made the arrest and later turned the man over to Constable Mumm.

Giles and Neil O'Brien, Harry Koop, Ed. Murphy and "Schlitz" Dennis made the trip in an automobile and claim they beat the special by 15 minutes.

Director C. A. Lewis, of Crosby, attended the Royalton-Crosby game and said the Crosby team was playing better ball at every game.

Gus Raymond, Clarence and Bob Tucker, of Fort Ripley, attended the Sauk Rapids game.

Sheriff Reid, Judge Sanborn, Register of Deeds Trommald and Manager Laymon of the Empress, were among the ardent fans who rooted for Brainerd.

Brainerd sent five coaches to Sauk Rapids. How many will that town send to Brainerd? "I guess about 12 people," said a Sauk Rapids man.

"That will be the nine, the scorer and two substitutes."

SOME WILSON SENTIMENT TOO

Aitkin County Believed to be for the New Jersey Candidate for the Presidency

CANDIDATES NATL. DELEGATE

Some Wilson Sentiment is Apparent in Stearns and Benton Counties to the South

The Aitkin caucuses will be held on May 25th in Aitkin county and the county convention at Aitkin on May 29. It is freely predicted that Aitkin will go for Wilson.

A man well versed in the business and political life of the counties south of Brainerd visited Stearns and Benton counties last week and stated that there was a decided and growing sentiment in those counties for Wilson.

Political observers in this southern section of the district say that M. T. Dunn, the president of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd, is being favorably mentioned as being a good man for delegate to the national democratic convention.

Stearns county has two candidates as delegates to the national convention, Fred Schlipin and Joe Koslowsky, of St. Cloud. Aitkin county is pressing the candidacy of J. B. Galarneault, former state bank examiner.

A feeling is growing in Brainerd that the Crow Wing county delegation may be split and that Wilson will get a share of it. The Crow Wing county convention will be held on May 29.

SAUK RAPIDS GAME PROTESTED

swat and struck out three batters. They added another in the fourth on a two bagger and a passed ball. In the sixth they counted another on a hit and a pair of bobbles. In the eighth a pass, a brilliant steal by Hagan and an error granted them their fourth score.

Brainerd played well, but the luck in every case broke on the Benton County side. They found Tillman and filled the bases. Cook pitched as well as he could with the wet, slobery ball and every man on the Brainerd team did his level best. The Brainerd City band sat in the grand stand and played several selections including, "Cheer, Cheer, The Gang's all Here."

Tillman hammered a home run over the fence, one of the longest drives ever seen in Sauk Rapids. In the protests made about the alleged use of resin Tillman denied that he was defacing the ball and stated he was getting his hand warm. Another point that caused Manager Considine to call his team from the field was the permitting of two runs by Umpire Bouton, when to all appearances the play would only permit of one count. In the seventh Kessner and Tillman were on third and second when Catcher Roderick attempted to catch Kessner off the base and hit him in the back. The ball went into the crowd and both runners came home. Umpire Bouton held that no ground rules had been made pertaining to the crowd along the third base line and so no ruling could be made other than to grant the scores. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME

The engineer and the fireman on the special entered into the spirit of the occasion and decorated the engine with flags and bunting. Passing trains cheered the special.
A feature of the outing was the playing of the Brainerd City band. "We can lick your baseball team," said one youthful Benton county fan, "but nobody can beat the band." Director F. J. Sykora had 28 musicians to the game.

A severe lung test was given the band boys when they ascended the hill near the ball park which is supplied with a gradient of 45 degrees. The musicians marched half way up the hill playing the "Gang's all Here. When they sat in the grand stand the tuba player was near the roof and rain trickled down the bell of the big instrument. The trombone players either hit a companion in the crotchet or went through a knot hole in the none too watertight roof. The music did much to cheer the Brainerd team and assisted materially in collecting a large crowd at the ball park.

Sauk Rapids was not prepared for the rush of people and in many instances eating houses and lunch counters were quickly depleted of all their hamburger steaks and ham and coffee. Dinners ranged in price from 25, 30 to 50 cents.
J. B. Galarneault, of the Aitkin County State bank, returning from Foley, just managed to catch the special by driving up to the train and boarding it as it pulled out of the station. His nephew, Thomas Galarneault of Foley, played first base for Benton County.
Ed. Lawson did not pitch for and at the last moment Cook was substituted. Lawson, in the preceding Sunday's game with Little Falls, injured his finger of the left hand. On Friday it pained him so much that he saw a physician at St. Paul who lanced the finger and found the bone had been splintered and that blood poisoning had set in. He will be out of the game some time.

The Crosby team utilized the special in their journey to Royalton. The manager of the team, J. A. Pokezwinski, claims the entire credit of catching the Hungarian murderer, Tony Schiter, as he walked along Main street towards the Spalding hotel at Crosby. Pokezwinski claims that Mike Reil did not grab the Hungarian and turned his gun over to Pokezwinski, who made the arrest and later turned the man over to Constable Mumm.

Giles and Neil O'Brien, Harry Koop, Ed. Murphy and "Schlitz" Dennis made the trip in an automobile and claim they beat the special by 15 minutes.

Director C. A. Lewis, of Crosby, attended the Royalton-Crosby game and said the Crosby team was playing better ball at every game.

Gus Raymond, Clarence and Bob Tucker, of Fort Ripley, attended the Sauk Rapids game.

Sheriff Reid, Judge Sanborn, Register of Deeds Trommald and Manager Laymon of the Empress, were among the ardent fans who rooted for Brainerd.

Brainerd sent five coaches to Sauk Rapids. How many will that town send to Brainerd? "I guess about 12 people," said a Sauk Rapids man. "That will be the nine, the scorer and two substitutes."

Last year the sum of $221.00 was taken in for the care of lots, and the sum of $653.00 paid out for the same purpose. You can readily see that it is impossible to keep this up and make any permanent improvements.

The care of lots must be paid for in advance. Those wishing to care for their own lots, kindly notify the superintendent on the grounds, that we may reduce our help to meet the existing circumstances.

Letters of Introduction.
Letters of introduction should not be worded in too complimentary or highly flattering terms. As they are left unsealed and delivered in person it is embarrassing for the caller to deliver them. The letter should simply introduce the bearer, state that he is a friend and that any courtesy or entertainment shown him will be greatly appreciated.

Letters of Introduction.
Letters of introduction should not be worded in too complimentary or highly flattering terms. As they are left unsealed and delivered in person it is embarrassing for the caller to deliver them. The letter should simply introduce the bearer, state that he is a friend and that any courtesy or entertainment shown him will be greatly appreciated.

MELLIN'S FOOD
"Our baby was sick and we tried several kinds of foods, which did not agree with him. At five months he weighed twelve pounds and we thought he would not live. A friend told us to try Mellin's Food. We commenced using it and he began to mend and at eight months old he weighed twenty-five pounds and is a picture of health. We feel that we owe his life to Mellin's Food."
Mrs. C. Sears, Haskell, Texas.
"I have five healthy children and am just starting the fifth, which is two months old, on Mellin's Food. I am positive it will prove successful, as I gave it to the other four and had no trouble with them, even during the hottest weather. I recommend it to all my friends and recently induced a friend who has a very delicate baby to try it and now the child is in perfect health. I cannot praise it too highly and would not think of giving my baby any other food."
—Mrs. W. Monahan, Hillburn, N.Y.
